Join us in a civil conversation as we explore what affordable housing means and to whom. What is the region doing to make housing a priority? What are the agencies involved?

Who can afford a house and who can't? Why does housing affect the social well-being of a community? Where can residents find rental housing they can afford?

The public is invited to speak or just listen as we discuss this important issue.

Parking is available in the company's deck on Third Street. For more information or directions, call Robin Beres at 649-6305 or visit TimesDispatch.com
